THE NATURAL WAY TO EXPLORE BRAZIL

BRAZIL

Special interest travel in Brazil

Brazil Ecotravel offers tailored itineraries and programs for group and independent travelers as well as tour outfitters, travel agencies, institutions and other organizations.

Brazil is a country of continental size, with great potential for nature based tourism. Rich in natural resources and containing one of the highest levels of biodiversity on Earth, Brazil is home to pristine tropical rainforests and an incredible coastline with thousands of beaches. All this is embraced by great cultural diversity and friendly people who welcome the international traveler with open arms.

Our country offers countless possibilities for anyone who searches for the opportunity to participate in-depth through a combination of natural and cultural encounters. Moreover, numerous activities include hiking and trekking, wildlife and bird watching, photography, caving and rafting, horseback riding, diving, boating and jeep safaris.

Our mission is to promote environmentally responsible travel in Brazil, ensuring that our natural resources and local communities benefit now and in the future. This mission demonstrates our belief that the true beauty of a nation and its people is reflected in the traveler's eyes.
